Early Intervention Support Service

WHAT IS THE EARLY INTERVENTION SUPPORT SERVICE (EISS)?

The EISS is a service that offers short term support to families with children 0 -18 years who have additional needs or are facing challenges that are difficult to overcome such as:

- Issues at school
- Behavioural difficulties
- Coping with illness or bereavement
- Family difficulties
- Domestic violence

WHAT DOES THE EARLY INTERVENTION SUPPORT SERVICE OFFER?

The EISS provides a range of supports tailored to the needs of each individual family's specific circumstances. This is achieved through a key worker who works with the whole family usually in their own home using a strengths based approach which is individually tailored to the needs and priorities identified from the whole family assessment.

The EISS works with families for a time limited period – approximately 12 weeks. A range of both hands on practical and therapeutic interventions including motivational interviewing and solution focused brief intervention therapy will be used. The EISS also has access to a range of parenting and support programmes such as Strengthening Families and Incredible Years and also Family Group Conferencing (FGC). This service is restricted to specific geographical areas within Health and Social Care Trusts (please get in touch for further information).

Child Protection in Northern Ireland

Abuse ruins childhood, but it can be prevented. NSPCC work with agencies across Northern Ireland to protect children by supporting families, and they find the best ways of preventing abuse from ever happening. A range of NSPCC helpline services are available for professionals who work with children in a range of safeguarding settings.

Childline: is a service for children who want to speak to us, whatever their worry, whenever they need help.

NSPCC Helpline: is a place where parents, professionals and the public can seek advice and share concerns about the welfare of a child

Free Cyber Safety Training for Parents

Children in Northern Ireland are delighted to be partnering with the PSNI to launch a series of FREE cyber-safety workshops for parents in venues across the country in March 2017. The courses are open to parents and carers of children, including grandparents.
