For further information and to register on the programme contact Gail at gail@youthaction.org

LGBT&Q Women’s Mentoring Programme

YouthAction Northern Ireland is delighted to extend its mentoring programme to young LGBTQ women aged 16–25 years across Northern Ireland. The programme is premised upon the benefits that can arise from having an informal, supportive and purpose driven relationship with a youth worker.

One-to-One sessions seek to support young women in identifying some of the personal barriers they are facing, to adopt action orientated approaches to these, while developing further support networks.

Are you a parent or do you provide childcare?

Employers For Childcare is asking all parents to complete the 2017 Northern Ireland Childcare Cost Survey to share their experience either of accessing childcare or of being unable to do so.

When you complete the survey you will be entered into their competition for a chance of winning an overnight stay for a family of four in the Galgorm Resort and Spa. http://tinyurl.com/ycdwc4h5

Belfast Come and Play

Belfast City Council are providing outdoor play sessions for parents and children under 4 years. It’s a chance to have fun, make friends and enjoy playing outdoors with your child. Activities include physical play, art, dressing up, messy play and much more. Click here for further details

Compass Advocacy Network
Transitions Programme

Young people with a learning disability and their families could benefit from a new project called CAN Pathways: Dream, Believe, Achieve that Compass Advocacy Network (CAN) in Ballymoney. CAN hopes this will reduce the feeling of isolation often felt by young people with a learning disability and their families when they move into adulthood and are unsure of the options & provision available. The project will work alongside schools, colleges, statutory providers and community organisations to provide accurate and accessible information about the choices that are available to young people when they finish school. The project will offer young people opportunities and support to discuss their individual plans and ambitions & make decisions about the next stage in their life.

Helping children and young people affected by cancer

The free programme ‘Children’s Lives Include Moments of Bravery’ (CLIMB) is open to children aged 5 – 12 years from the western trust area. The programme helps children understand cancer through art, craft and play. It helps them talk about their fears and gives them the chance to meet other children in the same situation. It also gives parents and carers time out to meet. Sessions are six weekly 90 minute group sessions on a Thursday from 5.30 – 7pm, at the Health and Wellbeing Campus on the Altnagelvin Hospital site. TinyLife : Life at Home

TinyLife in partnership with Queens University Belfast have developed a new website resource for parents of premature babies.

It is written with BOTH mums and dads in mind. Parents have told us that support and information for when they are at home with their premature baby is important to them.

The resource is organised around topics raised by parents during focus groups and the content includes practical advice and lots of short videos of parents and professionals that we hope you as a parent will find helpful.
